

Call for Article Submissions

BLUE SWALLOW FARM FOUNDATION CENTER FOR RESEARCH AND INSTRUCTION IN THE NATURAL WORLD

Blue Swallow Farm Foundation aims to provide information and resources for educators who want to teach through the natural world as part of classroom instruction and resources and mentorship for researchers who want to study the impacts.

To advance this goal, we are calling for article submissions from educators and researchers.

Possible Topics

For Educators

Content and Lesson Plans (Grades K-12)
Outdoor Classroom Design and Strategies
Citizen Science Programs
Innovative Technologies

For Researchers

Strategies for Conducting Research in the Natural World
Innovative Methodological Approaches
Methods for Measuring Outcomes
Research Studies/Reviews

SHARE YOUR IDEAS!

BLUE SWALLOW FARM FOUNDATION

CENTER FOR RESEARCH AND INSTRUCTION IN THE NATURAL WORLD

Article Length

500-600 words

For Lesson Plans

Submit a 500-600-word narrative on the content of the topic with references. Also include the accompanying lesson plan.

APA Style

Article submissions will include relevant citations and an APA style reference list. Accepted work will receive feedback prior to online publication and will be approved by the author(s).

Submissions

Article submissions are accepted on a rolling basis. Please send submissions to submissions@blueswallowfarmfoundation.org. In the header, please use the following format: `submissions_author(s)_title`. The response rate is 3-4 weeks.